Steve Ellis is a photographer and marketing professional based in Charlottesville, Virginia. He has been fortunate to travel widely in pursuit of his photography passion. The images in this exhibit were all captured along the East Coast, from Virginia Beach, VA and Charleston, SC to Cape Cod, MA and Great Smoky Mountains National Park, TN (and the tulips here at home in Charlottesville).

The photos in this exhibit are metal prints, which use the dye sublimation process to bond the inks onto a durable ChromaLuxe aluminum sheet. A high-gloss protective coating is then applied for optimal vibrance, clarity and longevity. Unlike with other print surfaces, fingerprints can be easily wiped away with a soft microfiber cloth and glass cleaner.
